

Product Range

It is important to note that our manufacturing facility gives Englander Line complete control over the furniture that we supply. That means that the items found on our website and in stock lists and catalogues are only a section of what we can supply.

Hotels and contract clients often require custom made pieces to specific dimensions and finishes. We accommodate this market and deliver unique items. If the client can describe it, we can fabricate it.

The range of furniture we provide is not limited to sofas, tables and chairs but also includes beds, headboards, night stands, desks . . and anything else you normally encounter in a hotel or residence.

Soft furnishings are a vital component when designing a space and just as important as the furniture in creating an overall ambience and effect.

Made to measure curtains and blinds are the norm rather than the exception and our range of fabrics is always growing and changing to reflect current trends and fashions.

About

Since 2000, Englander Line has manufactured a premium range of reproduction furniture and soft furnishings for the commercial and domestic markets. The styles are drawn mainly from the Regency and French Empire periods along with contemporary designs.

Our speciality is offering a bespoke furniture service and made to measure curtains for hotels, embassies, property developments and business premises. Flexibility in providing a wide range of wood finishes, fabrics and styles has been a key factor in our success.

The showroom is located on Imperial Way in Croydon (Surrey) and supplies both the UK and International markets. Englander Line Ltd is a privately owned company.

Focus on Quality

We believe that our clientele at the top end of an extremely discerning market require and deserve high quality in all aspects of their furniture acquisition. If care and attention to detail are the hallmarks of quality, then this is what epitomises the focus of Englander Line.

It holds true from the high standards and traditional skills of our craftsmen who create handmade pieces with delicate marquetry and finishes such as gold leaf gilding and French polishing.

It applies to our raw materials so that our main hardwood component, beechwood, is supplied from sustainable sources and carefully kiln dried to ensure our furniture is robust enough to withstand the normal wear and tear of commercial environments and is long lasting.

We take quality one step further in ensuring that both commercial and domestic clients receive the best of professional consultancy and advice when investing in Englander Line products.

Our consultants are highly experienced in the world of furnishings and this is particularly valuable when advising clients on the soft furnishings side of things, which includes upholstery fabrics as well as curtains, blinds and cushions. This focus on quality is why Englander Line has attracted high profile internationally recognised clients. It is an ethos that is both good for our customers and good for business.

Markets

Englander Line supplies two market sectors:

- COMMERCIAL & CONTRACT- primarily hotels and property developments
- DOMESTIC - residential clients through our showroom and referrals

Hotels at the exclusive 5 star end of the market find the Englander Line period range particularly suited to the ambience they wish to cultivate. Our furniture enhances an aura of pampering and fine dining, and our soft furnishings add a sense of luxury to bedrooms and public spaces.
